

20 BEST MUSEUMS IN TRICITY

A Comprehensive Cultural Guide to Gdansk, Gdynia, and Sopot

GDANSK

1. Museum of the Second World War

One of the most modern and comprehensive museums in Europe, located in a striking architectural building. It offers an incredibly detailed and emotional journey through the global impacts and personal tragedies of WWII.

2. European Solidarity Centre (ECS)

Situated in the historic Gdansk Shipyard, this interactive museum chronicles the history of the Solidarity movement, the fall of communism in Europe, and the peaceful struggle for freedom led by Lech Walesa.

3. Amber Museum

Housed in the majestic Great Mill, this museum showcases the history of Baltic amber. Exhibits include fascinating inclusions of prehistoric insects trapped in resin, as well as breathtaking historical and contemporary amber jewelry.

4. National Maritime Museum

Spread across several granaries on Olowianka Island, this museum details Poland's rich maritime history, including shipbuilding, navigation, naval warfare, and underwater archaeology.

5. Artus Court

A magnificent, richly decorated 14th-century meeting hall for merchants and patricians in the heart of the Main Town. It features a massive Renaissance tiled stove and stunning model ships suspended from the ceiling.

6. Main Town Hall

Dominating the Long Market, this gothic-renaissance building houses the Gdansk History Museum. The highlight is the Red Hall, featuring one of the most lavishly decorated ceiling interiors in Poland.

7. National Museum in Gdansk

Located in a former Franciscan monastery, this museum is famous for its collection of historical art. The crown jewel of the exhibition is Hans Memling's masterpiece triptych, "The Last Judgment."

8. Uphagen's House

A unique opportunity to step inside a beautifully restored 18th-century patrician mansion. It offers a rare glimpse into the opulent daily life, interior design, and wealth of the old Gdansk bourgeoisie.

9. Polish Post Office Museum

This poignant museum commemorates the heroic defense of the Polish Post Office in Gdansk on September 1, 1939, detailing the tragic fate of the postal workers who held off German forces at the outbreak of WWII.

10. Zuraw (Gdansk Crane)

An iconic symbol of Gdansk. This massive medieval port crane, operated by human-powered wooden treadwheels, was once the largest working crane in the world, used to load cargo and erect ship masts.

11. Westerplatte Monument and Museum

An outdoor museum and memorial site located on the peninsula where the first shots of World War II were fired. Visitors can explore the ruins of the Polish military transit depot barracks and the massive granite monument.

12. Emigration Museum

Located in the historic 1933 Marine Station, this deeply moving museum tells the stories of millions of Poles who left their homeland for the Americas and beyond, exploring the human experience of migration.

13. Dar Pomorza

A perfectly preserved full-rigged sailing frigate that served as a training ship. Visitors can walk the decks, explore the crew's quarters, and learn about the harsh realities and romance of life on the high seas.

14. ORP Blyskawica

The oldest preserved destroyer of its class in the world. Moored in Gdynia's harbor, this veteran of World War II allows visitors to explore its anti-aircraft artillery, torpedo tubes, and naval history exhibits below deck.

15. Gdynia City Museum

A fascinating look at how Gdynia transformed from a tiny fishing village into a massive, modernist port city in just a few years during the 1920s, heavily focusing on its unique interwar architecture.

16. Naval Museum

Adjacent to the city beach, this museum features an extensive outdoor display of naval weaponry, including torpedoes and helicopters. Inside, it chronicles the rich combat history and traditions of the Polish Navy.

17. Motorization Museum

A hidden gem featuring a stunning private collection of vintage cars and motorcycles from the 1920s and 30s. The exhibition space is uniquely designed to resemble a cobblestone street from the interwar period.

18. Sopot Museum

Housed in a beautiful early 20th-century beachfront villa, this museum captures the essence of Sopot's golden era as a luxury health resort. It features restored historical interiors and exhibits on local culture.

19. Grodzisko in Sopot

An open-air archaeological reserve situated in a lush forest. It features reconstructed medieval wooden huts and palisades, offering educational insights into how the region's earliest Slavic inhabitants lived a thousand years ago.

20. State Art Gallery (PGS)

Located near the Sopot Pier in the Spa House complex, this prestigious gallery hosts dynamic, high-quality contemporary and modern art exhibitions, featuring works by both renowned Polish and international artists.
